Suburbs End Rovers' Campaign

Snowy day on Cleveland's East Side brings Rovers' playoff run to close

The Cleveland Rovers' great season came to a close this past weekend, as they came up short in a playoff game against the rival Eastern Suburbs Green Horde.

It was a freezing cold Saturday afternoon, and the snow was coming down well before the game even kicked off. Both sides knew that a bid in the Midwest Championships was on the line, and each came to play from the start.

The Suburbs got off to a lead early on, getting a pair of tries and conversions on the board to go up 14-0. The Rovers kept at the Horde in the hard hitting affair, and were able to punch the ball in near the end of the half, as flanker Scott Liechty scored his eighth try of the season. Imes hit the conversion and made the game 7-14 to head into the half.

The Suburbs was able to pull away in the second half, as they scored four tries and three conversions and shut out the Rovers to take a 7-40 victory and win a shot at the Kelts in the Midwest Eastern Conference Finals.

The Rovers finished the season with a much improved 8-3 overall record, with their three losses on the season coming to the two teams that will be playing in the finals. They will look to continue to improve throughout the spring.*
